SATURDAY, MARCH 17. HAYES AND WHEELER.

Completion of Proceedings in Congress. Washington, March 2d.-Blackburn said To-day is Friday. On that day the Saviour of the World suffered crucifixion between two thieves. On this Friday constitutional government, judicial honesty, fair dealing, manhood and decency suffers crucifixion among a number of thieves. It was on that day that this Presidential fraud received his nomination at the hands of a party Convention. It was on that day that every determination reached by the blistered perjurers and miscreants who constitute a majority of this Commission have been promulgated. It is on that day that you propose to consummate your iniquity; but the people will at length rise to punish, even perhaps in blood, the perpetrators of all the scoundrelism and villainy of this proceeding.

Williams of Wisconsin replied to Blackburn, saying: "There is no day more fitting than hangman's day, and no hour more fitting than that at which graveyards yawn, for the gibbeting to death of the bastard party of political reform which has vexed the eyes of good men for the last twelve months." The best of good feeling prevailed among mem-bers, however, as indeed it did through all the excitement of the day. At 3:00 this morning, the debate having closed, a loud discussion arose as to the position which the Mills resolution should occupy. It was suggested by Wood that if it were withdrawn, and offered hereafter, as an independent proposition, he would vote for it, but that as a substitute for the resolution in regard to Wisconsin, he should have to vote against it. That course would only be accepted by Mills if the House would agree to vote upon it before the Senate came back. That was objected to on both sides. It was contended by Brown of Kentucky, Harrison and others, that it was in contravention of the Electoral Commission law. Finally, Mills' resolution was excluded on a point of order, with an intimation by the Speaker, that Mills might afterwards move its adoption under a suspension of the rules; but some Democrats remarked that that would be after the election of Hayes. At 3:50 A. M. an amendment, offered by Caswell of Wisconsin, that the vote of Downs be counted, was rejected; years, 79; nays, 130, and the original proposition, that it be not counted, was agreed to with-

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS-THE RESULT DECLARED. At 4 o'clock A. M., a message was received from the House announcing its action on the Wisconsin case. The Senate immediately left its Chamber for the House to complete the

As soon as the Senate entered, at 4:03 A. M., and all the members were seated, the action of the respective Houses on the Wisconsin question was read, and at 4:05 the ten votes of Wisconsin were announced for Hayes and Wheeler. The presiding officer said: "This concludes the count of the thirty-eight States of the Union. The tellers will now ascertain and deliver the result of the votes to the presiding officer."

At 4:07 A. M., the votes being completed and the result determined, the joint meeting of the two houses is dissolved. The Senate will now mber. House at 4:10 A. M. adjourned, and the flag which has never been down since it was hoisted over the halls of both Houses on the first of February last, as a signal of their being in session, was lowered. The Senate upon its return adjourned with three cheers for Hayes.

At 4:12 A. M. the election of Hayes and Wheeler was proclaimed and received without demonstration. The Senate retired, and the House at 4:15 adjourned. Senator Allison, of the tellers, having delivered the statement, the presiding officer expressed the hope that, on the announcement, nothing would mar the dignity of the proceedings so reputable to the American people, and so worthy of the respect of the world. He then said: "The whole number of Electors appointed to vote for President and Vice President of the United States was 369, of which a majority is 185. The vote for President as delivered by tellers, and as determined under the Act of Congress of January 29th on this subject, is: For Rutherford B. Hayes, 185 votes; for Samuel J. Tilden, 184. The votes for Vice President of the United States, as delivered by the tellers, as determined under the same Act of Congress, is; For William A. Wheeler, 185 votes; for Thomas A. Hendricks, 184 votes; wherefore I do announce that Rutherford B. Hayes, of the State of Ohio, having received a majority of the whole number of Elec-toral votes, is duly elected President of the United States for four years commencing the 4th day of March, 1877; that William A Wheeler, of the State of New York, having received a majority of the whole number of Electoral votes, is duly elected Vice President of the United States for four years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1877. The announcement, together with a list of votes will be entered on the Journals of both Houses." The vote of Wisconsin was counted in the joint session and the President of the Senate then, at 4:10 A. M., in the presence of both Houses, de-clared that Hayes and Wheeler have each received 185 electoral votes and are elected President and Vice President of the United States for four years from the 4th of Marh. LONDON, March 3-Morning.-The Times praises the Democratic leaders for their moderation, and thinks their conduct will secure the entire sympathy of the law-abiding citizensthe people who are well able to appreciate mod-eration and respect constitutional restraints. Haves election cannot excite genuine enthusiasm except in those who regard politics as a gamb-ling, tricky game. It may be viewed with moderate satisfaction as an escape from the evils of a prolongation of excitement or conflict of titles, but Hayes has not, unfortunately, the moral weight necessary to ballast a Republican admin-istration, situated as this must be. With best intentions he will probably be unable to carry into effect many of the pledges of his letter to the Cincinnati Convention. We trust that our anticipations are wrong, and that Hayes may show unexpected force of character and conquer the sympathies of the nation by an honest, fearless reform policy.

The Standard says: Undisputed succession to the Presidency, which has been secured in this case, is worth all the sacrifices of party interest, or even of public equity that it may have cost. The weakness of the new Government in Congress affords great hope of a decent Government.

economy, and justice in the South. The Daily News considers that the success of the filibustering section of the Democrats would have caused a Republican re-action ruinous to the future prospects of the Democrats. It thinks the South will be better off in some respects than it would have been under Tilden, as the Southerners will now equally control their own local affairs without having the same temptation to abuse power, they would have had in case of a complete Democratic success. The Post says: We fear President Haves authority will be seriously diminished by the means adopted to secure his return : but the interests of the country are superior to those of party, and as Hayes has been proclaimed President by a legally constituted tribunal nothing remains but for all loyal citizens to acknowledge his authority. THE NEW YORK JOURNALS.

New York, March 3 .- The Herald editorially says: What will be the policy of the new ad-ministration, now that the count is completed and Hayes declared President from the 4th of March next? The country naturally asks. What will he do? The opening signs are auspicious. Within a week Hayes has written to a friend in Congress words which, if he sticks to them, will make his administration a memorable one for good in the country's history. He wrote: "I shall stand by the ideas outlined in my letter of last Summer." It is an unexceptionable plan of public policy, and it will no doubt be closely studied by all who are anxious for reforms too long delayed, and for peace, rest and harmony for the country. The greater part of his letter was taken up with a discussion of the vital question of civil service reform, and in giving this first importance and the largest share of his thought Hayes showed a real apprehension abuse is so easily applied and so generally demanded, that we have no fears for the future of Louisiana and South Carolina. In his treatment of the currency question, much will depend upon the new President's selection of Secretary of the Treasury. If he calls to that important office a man ignormant of the question or of undecided opinions, or who looks upon office and its patronage as a steppingstone to the Presidency, he will find such an appointment an obstacle hardly surmountable in the way of currency reform. We therefore trust that he will select for this post a man who will sacrifice political ambition to the service of the country, and who ambition to the service of the country, and who will have knowledge and will enough to devise and to carry out plans for the early resumption of specie payments. But in all he does we urge the president to have confidence in the people; they will support him in all honest and courageous actions. The public sentiment of this country is always higher than the expressions it finds through the party press and reditions. Timidite through the party press and politicians, Timidity is the vice of these organs. They are perpetually calculating upon the effect of measures of policy, not on the country, but on their party. Let President Hayes act faithfully to the promises made and the policy which he announced in his letter of acceptance, and he will gather around him the ardent support of the most thoughtful and most intelligent part of the nation, and will win the gratitude of the country. THE CHICAGO " BULLDOSER" WAILS. CHICAGO, March 3 .- The Times, in its editorial speaking of the election of Hayes, says : "The programme of revolution is accomplished. For the first time in the history of America an elective monarch has been appointed by an open, monstrous fraud upon the constituted mode of election: for the first time since this pretentious republic came into existence a candidate for the Executive office, who failed to receive the approbation of even a plurality of the body politic has been set up in that office by connivance and intrigue and treasonable disobedience of the law by a revolutionary minority. For this revolu-tionary reversal of the nation's decision, this usurpation of the Executive Government by fraud and crime, the people have to blame, not the treasonable conspirators, whose passive tool was the man Hayes so much as the imbecile and trustless political hucksters composing the chiefs of the spoils ring called a Democratic party-less trustworthy demagogues, more treacherous political knaves than Morton, Chandler, Cameron, Sherman, Bradley and other revolutionary conspirators to set up a President by fraud-as have Bayard, Thurman, Kernan, Randall, Fernando Wood, Hewitt, Ben Hill, Lamar and the rest of Morton's Democratic Lieutenants proved themselves to be. To plot treason against right may be the part of great villians, but for men claiming to represent an outraged people to fall into and carry out the plot is the part of scoundrelism. The case stands alone, wholly without a precedent, unparalel in iniquity and unap-proached in revolutionary lawlessness by any other event in American history.' After commenting at length as to who will probably be the members of Hayes' cabinet, the Times concludes: "Ohio has the Presidency, Chief Justiceship, General and Lieutenant of the Army, and still cries for more. Sherman must go into the Treasury or there'll be a row. It is altogether likely that the State will soon be depopulated. Let Hayes pause before he recognizes Nichols as Governor of Louisiana. Were not Nichols and all his followers bulldosers? And the poor negro-what will become of him ! Wheeler always was in favor of Union Pacific policy, and will readily fall into line on Hayes' and Tom Scott's Southern Pacific idea. If Hayes wants a first-class Post-master General le send for McArthur. Business will now please get up and revive, according to promises. The tie that binds-the Southern Pacific Railroad tie. Barney's last days were his best.

THE CHICAGO " TRIBUNE " SAYS HAVES TITLE IS FULL AND COMPLETE. CHICAGO, March 2 .- The Tribune says: Hayes will become President of the United States peacefully and honorably. The present cry of " Fraud! fraud!" suggested by rage, will not last long, for it has not a basis. The Commission decided according to law, as it was bound to do, and it was empowered by Congress to give a full, clear and honest title to the Presidency. The case, on its merits, turned on Louisiana. Had the Commission been authorized to scrutinize the popular vote of Louisiana, it would have been months before a decision could have been reached, and the Commission would have defeated the purpose for which it was created, since a new election would have been necessary. As it is, the question of the preponderance of fraud in that State is necessarily an open one, with the advantage on the Republican side that the Hayes Electoral vote was awarded by the Returning Board according to law, after purging the popular vote of the fraud that had been committed; but it cannot, in any case, be maintained that Haves' title to the Presidency is deficient in any essential point.
